In the Entrepreneurship and Innovation workshop, students will have heard from experienced entrepreneurs how to set up a business and what processes will go through. For the so-called companies to be established within the course, they will be able to conduct market research, promote products and draw up marketing plans.

GEMS: This program, which instills the joy of learning in the child, will also raise awareness of the richness of mathematics and science fields.

Philosophy for Children (P4C) are sessions to make sense of life rather than a lesson. Each lesson begins with a relaxing exercise and continues with the selection of the stimulus (sound, text, picture, object ...) to start the questioning. The basis of this course is to be able to offer intelligent solutions and alternatives to every situation
