President's Message

Turkey is an important strategic center of the Middle East region and its playing the key role with not only its location but also its cultural and historical background. Turkish states established so far scientific, philosophical and cultural developments in Anatolia. It is important to emphasize that these developments aroused in Anatolia have ignited Western reformist ideas and movements.

IAUCST's main objective is to create an academic environment which is reproduced by the interpretation of these scientific, philosophical and cultural background blended with the idea that the world is a global village.

The second objective is to revitalize Turkish cultural, historical and scientific works under the lights of globalization.

IAUCST will unify us with democratic, secular and universal values and ideas as we can find in Ataturk's speeches. Its visionary, ethical and objective works will force us to rethink about our history and culture.

Our basic values are respectively wisdom, self-control, justice and courage on the way to reach our objectives. We will follow the way to raise our national culture above the level of contemporary civilizations by keeping our national merits such as rationality, courage, honesty, morality, generosity, hospitality, intellectual capacity, humanism, the reputation, diligence, experience, knowledge, virtue and free thought that Ataturk pointed us.

I strongly believe that IAUCST will work without pausing and advance to reach these significant objectives in the light of Istanbul Aydin University motto "towards a bright future".

I'am presenting my thanks to all of my colleagues those who contributed for this bulletin.

Dr. Mustafa AYDIN

Rector's Message

IAUCST has started its activity in 2008. This program aims to analyze and interpret political, economic, social, legal and cultural issues scientifically in Turkey. In this way it aims to organize training programs and produce information.

The center's activities are organizing national and international events, visits, round table meetings, certificates trainings, conference, symposium, workshops.

As management we value and support these activities of our center in terms of providing benefits to the scientific and academic world.

Prof. Dr. Yadigar IZMIRLI
