Özet

Atasözleri, nesilden nesile aktarılan ve toplumsal değerleri simgeleyen, doğallaştırılmış dilsel-kültürel normları taşıyan ifadelerdir, bu bağlamda engelin ya da engelliliğin temsiliyi içeren atasözlerinin kullanımı, engelli bireylere yönelik baskın söylemi yansıtır. Bu çalışmada amaç, engelliliğe dair kalıp yargılar içeren atasözlerini, Rehberlik ve Psikolojik Danışmanlık programı birinci sınıf öğrencilerinin gözünden incelemektir. Nitel araştırma deseniyle yürütülen çalışmada veri toplama sürecinde iki ayrı odak grup görüşmesi gerçekleştirilmiştir. Çalışma grubu, ilk grup dokuz kadın üç erkek olmak üzere 12 kişiden; ikinci grup dokuz kadın beş erkek olmak üzere 14 katılımcıdan oluşmaktadır. Araştırmanın çalışma grubunu oluşturan katılımcılar 18-19 yaş aralığında yer almaktadır. Veri toplama aracı olarak araştırmacılar tarafından belirlenen sekiz atasözüne dair düşünceleri ortaya çıkarmaya yönelik hazırlanan görüşme formu kullanılmıştır. Gerçekleştirilen görüşmeler sonucunda elde edilen veriler, odak grup çalışmalarına uygun "klasik içerik analizi" yaklaşımıyla çözümlenmiştir. Analiz sonucunda beş ana tema ortaya çıkmıştır. Bu temalar; Sağlamlılık, Biz-Onlar, Değer Üzerinden Hiyerarşi, Normalleştirme ve Yeniden Üretme, Norma Tepki ve Dönüşüm olarak isimlendirilmiştir. Bulgular, katılımcıların sağlam beden algısı üzerinden ayrımcılık düşüncelerini, toplumun kişiye işlevselliği üzerinden değer biçilmesi ve hiyerarşik bir kategorizasyon oluşturmasına dair görüşleri ortaya koymaktadır. Aynı zamanda bu söylemlerin toplumda nesiller arası aktarıldığı ve atasözlerinin de bunun büyük bir parçası olduğu ortaya çıkmaktadır. Son olarak, katılımcılarda sosyal çevrenin oluşturduğu engeller karşısında toplumsal dönüşüme dair eleştirel düşüncelerinin bulunduğu görülmüştür. Sonuç olarak, atasözlerinde yer alan ayrımcı ve sağlamlılık temelli söylemlerin yeniden ürettiği; bu döngünün kırılmasının ise eşitlikçi bir bakış açısıyla tepkisel bir dönüşüm ihtiyacını gündeme getirdiği anlaşılmaktadır. Bu bulgular, engellilikle ilgili dilsel ve kültürel kalıpların eleştirel değerlendirilmesinin önemine işaret etmektedir.

As the Faculty of Education, we joyfully held our November 24 Teachers' Day Celebration Program together. The ceremony took place with the participation of our university's protocol, faculty members, and students. On this meaningful day, the dedication of our teachers and their pioneering role in education were once again emphasized. The program began with a Moment of Silence and the singing of our National Anthem, followed by a musical performance by Emirhan Gencil, a student from our Music Club.

Developing Young Children's Emotion Regulation Skills Through Picture Books

ABSTRACT

This study was carried out to examine picture books prepared for children in the 3-6 age group in terms of supporting emotion regulation skills. The sample group of the study consists of 113 domestic or translated children's picture books published in Türkiye between 2010 and 2022, selected using the criterion sampling method. The data were obtained by using the "Book Colophon Form" and the "Criteria List of Coping Strategies with Emotions". According to the study's findings, most of the books analyzed were translated. When the publishing years of 113 children's picture books were examined, it was found that the themes of emotions and coping with emotions were largely covered in 2019. Also, the majority of the children's picture books examined had animal characters. In the books, it was determined that functional strategies such as self-motivation, getting adult support, diverting the mind/attention, and calming down were mainly used to cope with positive and negative emotions. The findings were discussed in the context of coping strategies with emotions and emotion regulation skills in the preschool period.

Abstract: This study examines the gender perceptions of classroom teacher candidates enrolled in primary education programs in Türkiye. Although sex is biologically determined through hormonal and anatomical characteristics, gender represents the socially constructed roles, responsibilities, and expectations attributed to individuals by society. The research adopts a quantitative paradigm utilizing a survey model to investigate how prospective teachers perceive gender roles and equality. The sample consists of 444 teacher candidates (279 female and 165 male) studying at state and foundation universities in Istanbul during the 2022–2023 academic year. Data were collected through a Personal Information Form and the Gender Perception Scale. Statistical analyses were conducted using the Mann–Whitney U Test and Kruskal–Wallis H Test to determine differences among demographic variables. The reliability of the scale was calculated as 0.94, indicating a high level of internal consistency. Findings revealed that classroom teacher candidates exhibit a moderate level of gender perception. Significant differences were observed between total scores on the Gender Perception Scale and variables such as gender, family type, type of high school graduated, father’s employment status, and family’s economic situation. Conversely, no significant differences were found regarding marital status, grade level, number of male or female siblings, parental education level, mother’s employment status, residence during childhood, current place of residence, or geographical region. These findings suggest that while preservice teachers possess awareness of gender issues, traditional perceptions persist in certain demographic groups. Developing gender-sensitive pedagogical awareness among teacher candidates is essential to promote equality in early education and to prevent the transmission of gender stereotypes to future generations.

Markaların Influencer İletişimi Stratejileri: Halkla İlişkiler Uzmanlarının Perspektifinden Nitel Bir Araştırma Brands' Influencer Communication Strategies: A Qualitative Study from the Perspective of Public Relations Professionals

ÖZ

Günümüzde markaların dijital ortamlarda hedef kitleleriyle etkili iletişim kurma arayışı, halkla ilişkiler uygulamalarını yeniden şekillendirmiş ve sosyal medya etkileyicilerini bu sürecin önemli aktörleri hâline getirmiştir. Bu doğrultuda influencer iletişimi, markaların görünürlük kazanması ve hedef kitlelerle daha samimi ilişkiler geliştirmesi için stratejik bir araç olarak öne çıkmaktadır. Bu çalışma, markaların influencer iletişimi stratejilerini halkla ilişkiler perspektifinden incelemeyi amaçlamaktadır. Markaların influencer iletişimini halkla ilişkiler stratejileriyle nasıl bütünleştirdiği ve bu süreci hangi uygulama biçimleri doğrultusunda yapılandığı araştırılmaktadır. Nitel araştırma yöntemiyle tasarlanan çalışmada, İletişim Danışmanlığı Şirketleri Derneği'ne (İDA) üye olan ajanslar içerisinde 10 (on) halkla ilişkiler profesyoneli ile yarı yapılandırılmış görüşmeler gerçekleştirilmiştir. Bulgulara göre influencerlar, markalar için en çok güven inşa eden ve marka sözcüsü gibi işlevlerle tanımlanmakta; halkla ilişkiler faaliyetlerine entegre edilmelerinin temel nedeni olarak hedef kitleyle samimi iletişim, güven artırma ve dijital görünürlük ihtiyacı öne çıkmaktadır. Influencer seçiminde en çok hedef kitle uyumu, içerik kalitesi ve özgünlük ile takipçi güvenilirliği dikkate alınmaktadır. Kurumsal itibar yönetimi, etkinlik yönetimi ve pazarlama iletişimi öne çıkan uygulama alanları olurken, kampanya etkinliğinin ölçülmesinde etkileşim oranı, görüntülenme ve erişim sayıları gibi dijital metriklerin kullanıldığı görülmektedir. En çok tercih edilen platform ise Instagram'dır. Kampanyalarda içerik üretim süreci stratejik biçimde brief, fikir alışverişi ve uyum aşamalarından geçmekte; markalar yönlendirici bir rol üstlenmektedir.

Anahtar Kelimeler: Dijital İletişim, Influencer İletişimi, Stratejik İletişim, Halkla İlişkiler Uygulamaları, Halkla İlişkiler Yöntem ve Araçları.

ÖZET

Bu çalışmada sinema çalışmalarında da kendine sıklıkla yer bulmuş ve Üçüncü Sinema, postkolonyal eleştiri ve estetik gibi alanların literatürlerinde karşılaşılan Eric J. Hobsbawm’ın sosyal isyancılık olgusu üzerinden televizyondan dijital geçiş sürecinde sisteme alternatif seslerin ve duruşun yer aldığı, Üçüncü Sinemanın özellikleri arasında da yer alan egemenler tarafından yaratılmış yapay gerçekliğin yerine toplumsal gerçekliği yerleştirme, hasıraltı edilerek sistem tarafından unutturulmaya çalışılan toplumsal belleği hatırlama pratikleriyle yeniden canlandırma gibi özellikleriyle karşı veya muhalif anlatıların günümüzde hayatımıza entegre olmuş dijital medyada televizyona oranla daha kolay bir şekilde var olabileceği ortaya koyulmaya çalışılmıştır. 20. yüzyılda Walter Benjamin’in çalışmalarında ortaya çıkan teknolojik yeniden üretilebilirlik kavramıyla birlikte auranın kaybı ve kült değerinin yerini teşhir değerinin almasının politik bilinç yaratmadaki önemini vurgulanması örnek alınarak dijital medyanın söz konusu bu aura kaybını hiper seviyeye çıkardığı göz önünde bulundurulmuş, bu tip anlatıların olanaklılığı 2018 yılında bir dijital yayın platformu olan Puhutv’de ilk sezonu yayınlanan Şahsiyet dizisinin yine bir başka dijital yayın platformu olan Gain’de yayınlanan ikinci sezonu örneklem olarak seçilmiştir. Şahsiyet: II Fasil adıyla yayınlanan bu sezonun ülkemiz açısından hala çözülmemiş bir toplumsal meseleyle örülü olması ve anlatı yapısıyla karşı duruşu sergilemesi gibi özellikleriyle dijital medyada hayata geçirilen bazı projelerin karşı hegemonik söylemlere ev sahipliği yapabildiğini örneklemektedir. Bu doğrultuda çalışmada ilk televizyon ve yeni medyanın arasındaki yapısal farklar ele alınmış, Üçüncü Sinema ve Mükemmel Olmayan Sinema gibi kuramlardan yararlanılarak anlatıdaki sosyal isyancılığın peşine düşülmüştür. Bu izleme hedeflenen dijital mecranın kapitalizme için çelişkileri bir yana estetik olanla politik olanın kesişimindeki olanakları ve kültürel üretimin yeni biçimlerini gözler önüne sermektedir.

Anahtar Kelimeler: Dijital medya, Televizyon, Sosyal İsyancılık, Eric J. Hobsbawm, Şahsiyet.

The role of public service announcements in creating media literacy

Emet Gürel, İlkay Burak Taşkıran and Ekin Karakuyu*

Abstract: Media literacy is an essential communication tool that helps develop individuals' ability to evaluate and interpret media content consciously and analyze it critically. In today's digital age, the dissemination of media literacy education not only protects individuals from misleading or manipulative content but also improves their ability to access correct information. Public service announcements (PSAs) are considered a vital tool for creating media literacy by enhancing social awareness, raising consciousness, and educating the public, thanks to their potential to reach large masses. This study was conducted to examine the importance of PSAs in creating media literacy. The study sample comprised a PSA series titled 'Nuclear Family' prepared by the Turkish Radio and Television Supreme Council. The study was conducted using content analysis, which is a qualitative research method. The data were analyzed using the MAXQDA 2024 qualitative data analysis program. The results of the study highlighted the use of PSAs as an effective tool in raising media literacy awareness. Especially, the issue of information reliability was at the forefront in terms of combating disinformation. The results conformed to the international and national findings on media literacy and PSAs, revealing that they play an important role in media literacy. The study systematically examined the relationship between media literacy and PSAs, thus contributing to the available findings and offering suggestions for increasing social awareness.

Abstract

This study explores the palimpsest effect of government policies and migration on the architectural layering of Kumkapi, Istanbul. The transformations that have occurred in the physical environment of the district over time have been systematically evaluated through qualitative fieldwork, archive maps, on-site documentation of building facades, and comparative analysis methods. Findings highlight the dynamic interplay between policy, migration, and architecture, emphasizing the need for inclusive urban planning. The findings reveal how migration and political interventions have shaped architectural identity in the process extending from Byzantium to the present; they make architectural layering patterns visible, especially through changes in periodic building uses, facade morphologies, and street texture. The study emphasizes the dynamic interplay between policy, migration, and architecture, highlighting the need for inclusive urban planning.

Correlation between visual perception and language skills of children with cochlear implants

Damla Urhan^{1*} and Merve Meral Çetinkaya^{1*}

Abstract

Background Evaluating the visual perception of children using cochlear implants and examining its relationship with language skills is important for creating an individualized auditory rehabilitation program. The aim of this study is to investigate the visual perception skills of children with cochlear implants and the correlation between their language skills and visual perception skills.

Methods A total of 42 children with bilateral cochlear implants ($n=21$) and unilateral cochlear implants ($n=21$) were included aged 4–8 years. The demographic data were collected from the families of the children included in the study. The Frostig Visual Perception Test was applied to assess the children’s visual perception skills, and the Turkish Version of Test of Language Development Primary was administered to assess their language skills.

Results The study revealed that boys scored significantly higher than girls in the figure stability sub-dimension of the frostig visual perception test ($p=0.032$). Children who had used cochlear implants for more than 5 years demonstrated higher visual perception scores compared to those who had used them for 3–5 years and less than 3 years ($p<0.05$). The visual perception skills of children with cochlear implant improved with increasing age ($p<0.05$). A significant relationship was observed between all subdimensions of language skills and total visual perception scores in bilateral cochlear implant users, whereas in unilateral cochlear implant users, this significant correlation was limited to the listening subdimension of language skills ($p<0.05$).

Conclusion The duration of cochlear implant use may affect visual perception and visual perception is related to language development in children with cochlear implants.
