We Have Conducted Disaster Preparedness Training For Our University Staff

Istanbul, which has been subjected to the destructive effects of disasters caused by earthquakes many times throughout its history, is shown among the cities with the highest disaster risk in the World. For this reason, every institution and individual in this city has a set of works to be carried out for disasters.

As Istanbul Aydın University Disaster Training Application and Research Center, we have carried out a training for our personnel, in which individual preparations against disasters are conveyed, with this awareness of responsibility.

In this training, it was explained step by step what kind of preparations should be made for the individuals themselves and their families before, during and after the disaster. In the training that lasted for one hour and thirty minutes, responsibilities for the responsibilities of individuals and institutions in order to increase collective awareness about disasters were shared with the participants.

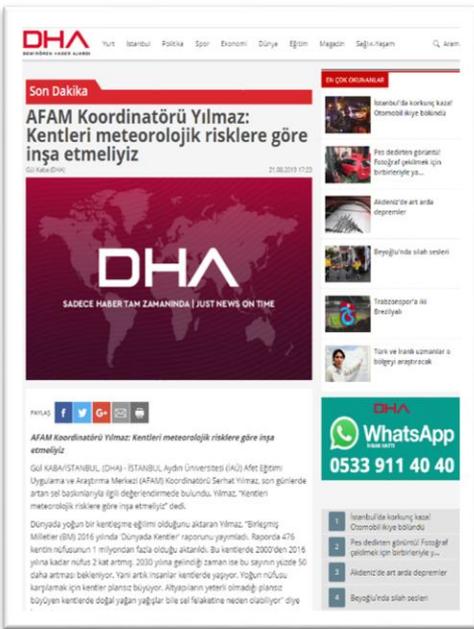

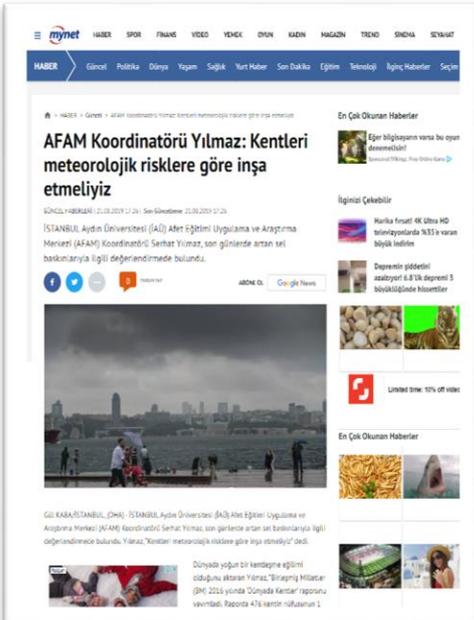

"Urban Disasters: Floods and Floods" Article Published as News in Many National Press

As Disaster Training Application and Research Center, we include our observations on national disaster problems in the monthly bulletins we publish. Among these observations, our evaluations regarding the floods and floods in the cities we have included in the August 2019 issue were published as news by many national and local press organization.
