Basic Disaster Awareness Training Continue

As Istanbul Aydın University Disaster Training Application and Research Center (AFAM), we continue the Basic Disaster Awareness Trainings we carry out within the scope of our corporate social responsibility in February 2020.

We continued our trainings in Bağcılar Hazar College on February 11, 2020 and Bahçeşehir Doğa College on February 13, 2020, especially in order to raise awareness of disasters at an early age and to increase social capacity against disasters.

In February 2020, we reminded about 400 students and teachers what their individual responsibilities will be regarding disasters and how they can protect themselves, their families and their environment against disasters.

Structural and Individual Preparation Against Earthquake Special TV Program

Most of our country's lands are under the risk of earthquakes and that different regions are exposed to the devastating effects of earthquakes many times requires our people to be informed about what kind of preparations should be made about earthquakes. The presentation of expert opinions on the seismic activity of the earthquake in the television news made after the earthquakes we frequently encounter cannot contribute to the individual preparations.

For this reason, we, as Istanbul Aydın University Disaster Training Application and Research Center, have prepared a special publication in which we provide a comprehensive coverage of what should be done in order to prevent damage to the buildings, belongings and individuals in the earthquake zone in the earthquake zone, in cooperation with Akit TV. The earthquake special program, which was shot on February 9-10, 2020, was shared with the audience on February 11, 2020.

Cooperation Model with Universities Common Mind Meeting

Collaboration Model Common Mind Meeting with Universities was held under the coordination of Istanbul Metropolitan Municipality in Istanbul, which hosts more than two million students and is considered one of the most risky cities in the world in terms of earthquakes.

In the meeting held at Haliç Congress Center on February 11, 2020 and attended by 85 academicians from 45 different universities in Istanbul, on behalf of Istanbul Aydın University, Director of Disaster Training Application and Research Center Prof. Dr. Mehmet Fatih Altan attended.

At the meeting, for a 'Collaboration Model' was worked on in which scientific outputs could be supported by benefiting from the opportunities of universities and the metropolitan municipality.
